Hi, I'm Ihsan! I'm a web developer experience in web-developments. In a nutshell, I create websites that right now still in development. I manage everything from website navigation and layout, web hosting and security architecture. Even though it's still using free hosting like github and heroku. My expertise lies within front-end web apps, and the main languages in my tech stack are JavaScript, React, and of course HTML/CSS. I'm a lifelong learner and love to read, run, and find new bubble tea shops anywhere.
